Making best use of this interactive PDF

You will need a mouse or pointer to click on features which allow you to choose how to navigate the pages.

The standards section is intended to be interactive - click on titles and symbols in the main pages to explore the standards in your own way.

Clicking on each of the 5 standards will take you to a breakdown of elements within each standard.

Clicking on the element headings will take you to the descriptors for that element.

Pages with a yellow tab relate to the teaching descriptors.

Pages with a coral tab relate to descriptors for formal leadership roles.

Clicking on icons in the bottom right corner of pages will allow you to return to earlier pages, or navigate between each of the five standards.

The descriptor pages have an icon which will take you back to the element breakdown of that standard, where you will also find links to enable you to move between the teaching descriptors and the descriptors for formal leadership, or to the 'What do the 5 standards say?' page.

The home icon will take you back to the contents page.

A new model for professional standards

After working extensively with teachers across Wales, we have five new professional standards for teaching and leadership with an overarching set of values and dispositions which should drive everyone who works with learners. The standards concentrate on the essential elements of every teacher's work – pedagogy, collaboration, leadership, innovation and professional learning – and will help underpin the development of the teaching profession as it leads the transformation of our education system in Wales. The new standards have been developed with the profession, for the profession, to be relevant to every teacher's day-to-day work.

Each standard is divided into elements with descriptors that exemplify how the standards could apply to a teacher's work depending on where that teacher is in terms of their role and career.

The lower descriptors for teaching describe expectations that should be met for the award of QTS and the successful completion of statutory induction.

The upper descriptors exemplify sustained highly effective practice and provide a focus for career-long professional learning.

The lower descriptors for formal leadership show the expectations of a formal leadership role and the upper descriptors exemplify highly effective practice in a formal leadership role.

Who will use them and when?

If you are an NQT starting induction on or after 1 September 2017, you will use the professional standards for teaching and leadership and their descriptors to complete your induction. If you are an NQT who began your induction prior to this date, you will continue your induction using the (i.e. the standards you began your induction with). You can view the full induction guidance

If you are a serving teacher or school leader, you can move to the teaching standards and/or the formal leadership standards during the course of 2017/18. All practising teachers and formal leaders will use the new standards by 1 September 2018.

How should the standards be used?

NQTs are required to evidence that they meet all of the lower descriptors (induction level) for teaching within the five standards in order to complete their induction.

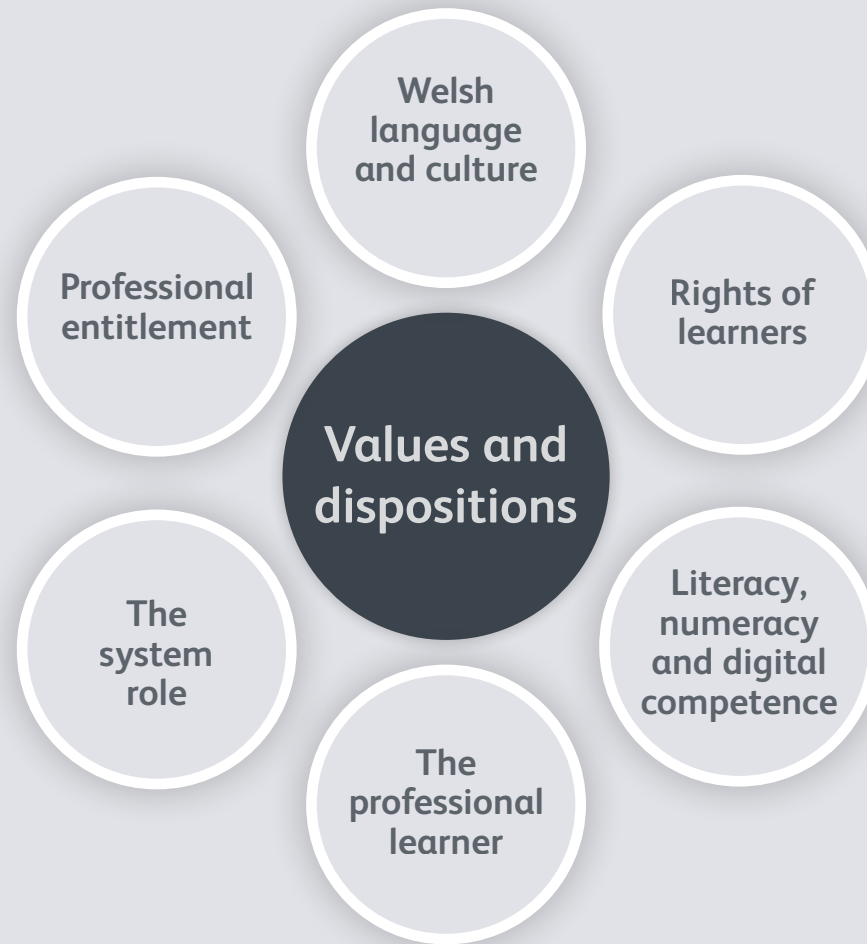

Practising teachers and leaders must continue to meet each of the five standards as they fulfil their work. Beneath each of the five standards there are a number of elements supported by a range of descriptors. These are for practitioners to explore in a developmental way – not as a checklist – by showing what sustained highly-effective practice looks like and providing a focus for career-long professional learning.

NQTs, practising teachers and formal leaders will be able to use the EWC Professional Learning Passport (PLP) to reflect on their professional experiences and map them to the professional standards for teaching and leadership. For NQTs this is mandatory to evidence that they have met all relevant descriptors.

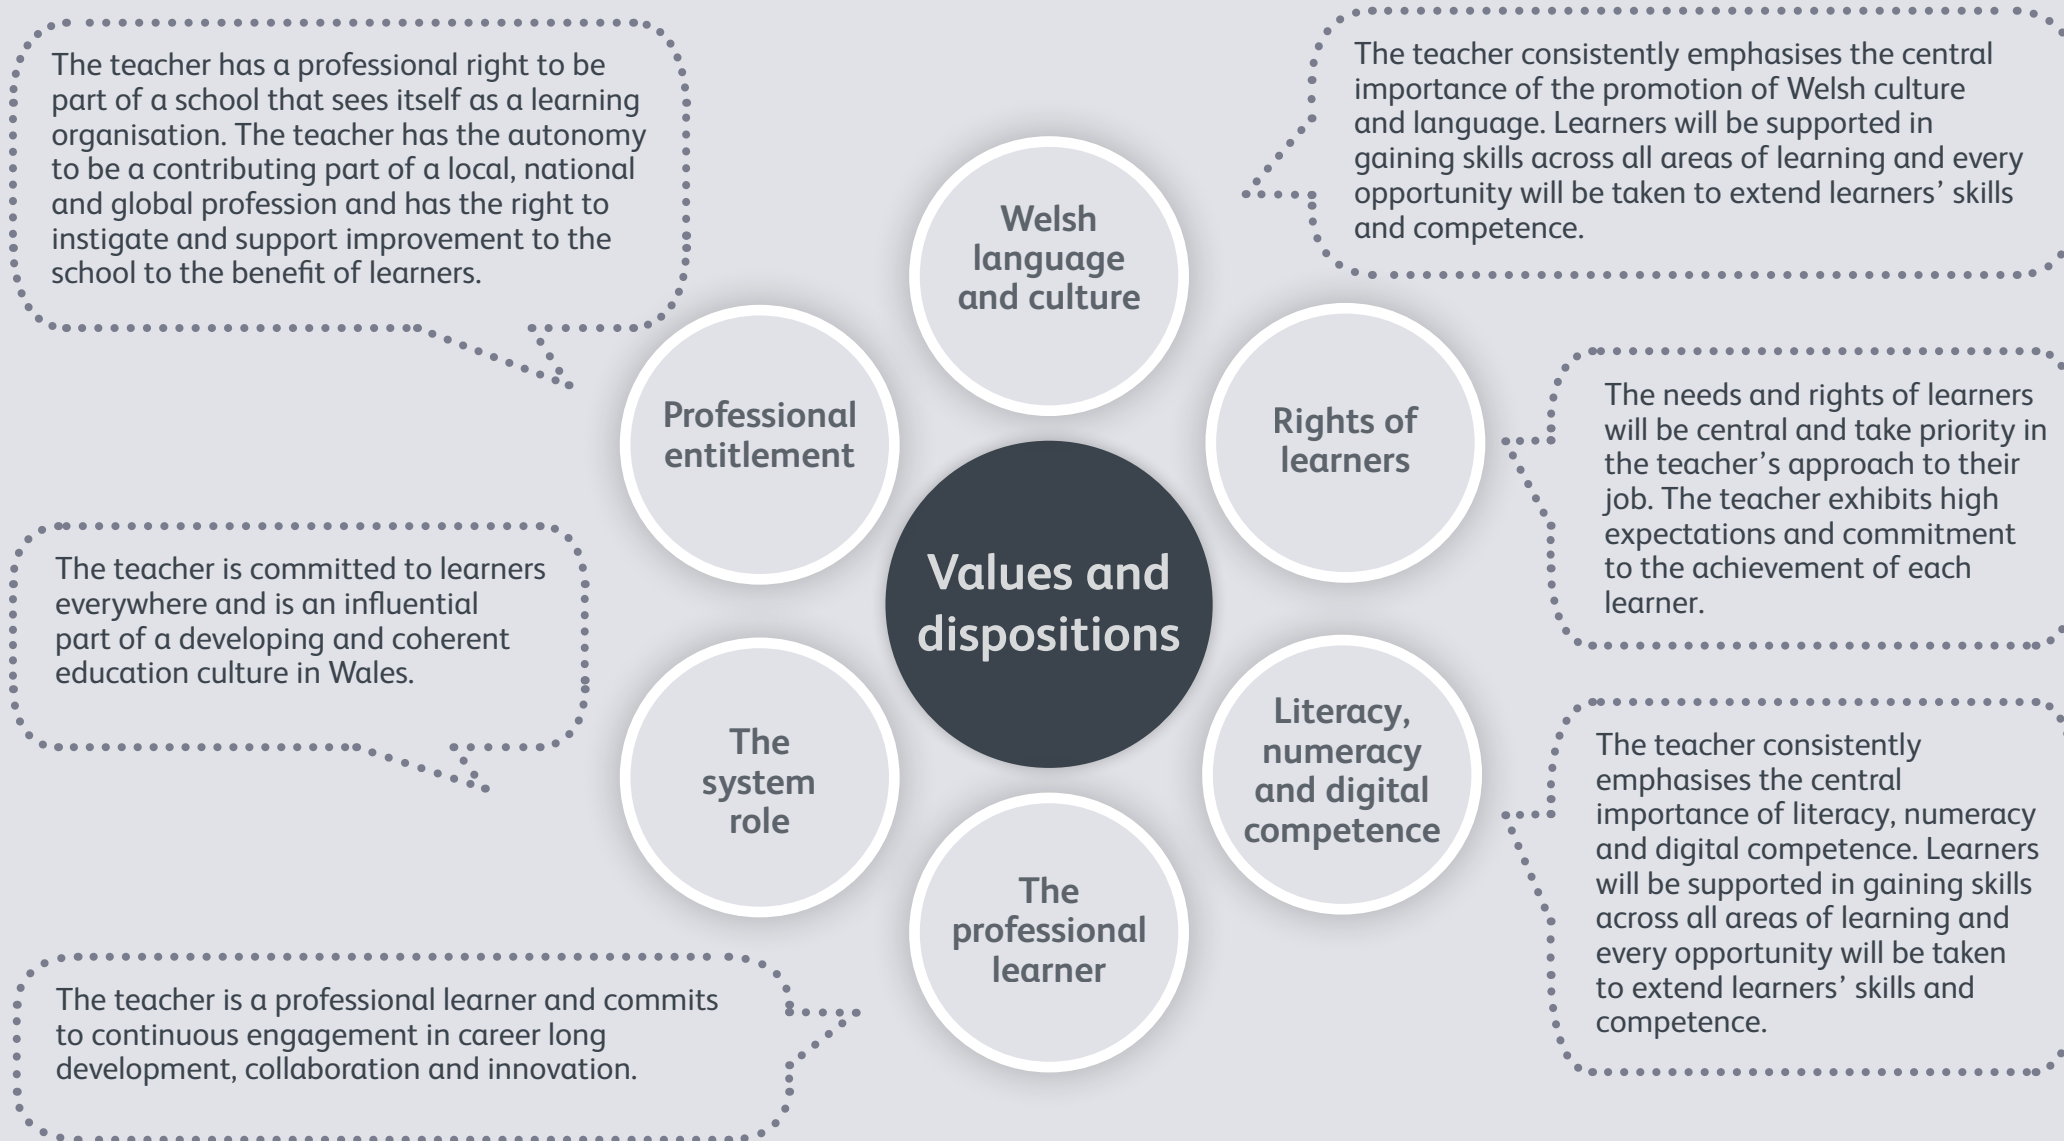

To help you explore the new professional standards, you can take a look at this video, or you can begin exploring on the next page.
