Summary

This guidance outlines the procedures and criteria the Learning and Skills Council (LSC) uses to fulfil its legal duties towards funding placements at specialist colleges for learners with learning difficulties and/or disabilities in 2005/06.

The Learning and Skills Act 2000 requires the LSC to consider the needs of people with learning difficulties and/or disabilities. It imposes duties and powers in respect of securing boarding accommodation for people over compulsory school age but not yet 19, those aged 19 but not yet 25 and those aged 25 and over.

This guidance is of interest to college principals, especially those of specialist colleges, chief executives of Connexions Services, chief education officers and directors of social services.

Executive Summary

Date: September 2004

Subject: This guidance outlines arrangements for placements at specialist colleges for learners with learning difficulties and/or disabilities in 2005/06.

The Learning and Skills Act 2000 (the Act) requires the Learning and Skills Council (LSC), in the discharge of its main duties, to consider the needs of people with learning difficulties and/or disabilities. The Act also imposes duties and powers in respect of securing boarding accommodation. These apply to three groups of potential learners with learning difficulties and/or disabilities:

- those over compulsory school age but not yet 19
- those aged 19 but not yet 25
- those aged 25 and over.

This guidance outlines the procedures and criteria by which the LSC's legal duties towards the funding of placements at specialist colleges for learners with learning difficulties and/or disabilities will be carried out in 2005/06. A placement at a specialist college should be considered as one of a number of options available to a learner with learning difficulties and/or disabilities. It is likely, however, that for the majority of learners with learning difficulties and/or disabilities their needs can and should be met within the general post-16 sector.

Intended recipients: This guidance is of interest to college principals, especially those of specialist colleges, chief executives of Connexions Services, chief education officers and directors of social services.

Status: For information.

Funding Guidance: Placement for Learners with Learning Difficulties and/or Disabilities at Specialist Colleges 2005/06

---

Section 1: Introduction and Context

Introduction

1 This guidance outlines the procedures and criteria by which the Learning and Skills Council (LSC) will carry out its legal duties and powers in the funding of placements for learners with learning difficulties and/or disabilities at specialist colleges.

Context

The Learning and Skills Council

2 The Learning and Skills Act 2000 (the Act) was introduced to deliver the Government's vision of a coherent and transparent funding system for post-16 education and training that will:

- be responsive to the demands of individuals, communities and employers; and
- promote excellence, high quality and value for money.

3 The LSC's responsibilities sit within the context of a number of government initiatives designed to promote equality of opportunity for individuals and to achieve social inclusion.

There are also requirements placed on other agencies that contribute to the achievement of these aims. Some of those that relate to learners with learning difficulties and/or disabilities are summarised in Annex A.

Section 13 of the Act

4 The Act requires the LSC, in the discharge of its main duties, to consider the needs of people with learning difficulties and/or disabilities. Under the Act, a person is described as having a learning difficulty if he or she:

- has a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of persons his or her age; or
- has a disability that either prevents or hinders him or her from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided by institutions providing post-16 education or training.

5 It also imposes duties and powers in respect of securing boarding accommodation (referred to throughout this document, apart from in extracts from the legislation, as "residential provision"). These apply to the three groups of potential learners with learning difficulties and/or disabilities as follows:

- those learners over compulsory school age but not yet 19: if the LSC is satisfied that it cannot secure the provision of facilities for education or training that are sufficient in quantity and adequate in quality for a person with a learning difficulty who is over compulsory school age but who has not attained the age of 19 unless it also secures the provision of boarding accommodation for him or her, the LSC must secure the provision of boarding accommodation for him or her.
- those learners aged 19 but not yet 25: if the LSC is satisfied that it cannot secure the provision of reasonable facilities for education or training for a person with a learning difficulty who has attained the age of 19 but not the age of 25 unless it also secures the provision of boarding accommodation for him or her, the LSC must secure the provision of boarding accommodation for him or her.
- those learners aged 25 and over: if the LSC is satisfied that it cannot secure the provision of reasonable facilities for education or training for a person with a learning difficulty who has attained the age of 25 unless it also secures the provision of boarding accommodation for him or her, the LSC may secure the provision of boarding accommodation for him or her.

6 The LSC also considers securing day placements for learners at specialist colleges through this same process.

7 The provisions of the Act that relate to the LSC's duties towards learners with learning difficulties and/or disabilities are set out in full in Annex B.

8 It is envisaged that the requirement placed on education and training providers by the Act will help realise the vision of the Tomlinson report (FEFC, 1996) for learners with learning difficulties and/or disabilities in further education. The Tomlinson report set out a concept of "inclusive learning" in further education according to which providers match their provision to the needs of the individual learner.

Placements at specialist colleges

9 In carrying out its duties under Section 13 of the Act, the LSC has a duty to consider funding placements at specialist colleges for those learners with learning difficulties and/or disabilities for whom it is appropriate to do so. It is likely, however, that for the majority of learners with learning difficulties and/or disabilities, their learning and support needs could be met by general post-16 provision. In considering requests for placements at specialist colleges, the LSC expects that agencies involved with the young person will, with that young person and his or her family or carers, have considered all appropriate options for his or her post-16 education. It is envisaged that such options will have been considered during transition planning (as per the Special Educational Needs (SEN) Code of Practice, January 2002) and through assessments carried out under Section 140 of the Act (the LSC must have regard to any assessment under Section 140). Section 140 of the Act is set out in Annex B. These assessments are a statutory duty of the Secretary of State for Education and Skills (the Secretary of State), which has been delegated to the Connexions Service.

10 Generally, where a learner is under the age of 19, has a statement of special educational needs, and the most appropriate placement is within a school, the learner remains the funding responsibility of the Local Education Authority (LEA). This includes transfers between schools and those within or outside LEA areas. LEAs also have a responsibility to continue to fund such learners until the end of the academic year in which they turn 19.

11 Funding for a placement (day or residential) will be considered following the receipt, by the LSC, of a request on behalf of the learner by his or her referring agency (usually the LEA or Connexions Service). The details of this process are described in Section 3 of this guidance and involve the LSC working closely with the agencies involved with the young person (the LEA, Connexions Service and others, such as social services, as appropriate).

12 Annex C to this guidance contains a list of all the specialist colleges at which the Council currently funds learners with learning difficulties and/or disabilities.

Section 2: Consideration of Placements

All Placements – Day and Residential

13 To secure funding for any placement at a specialist college it will be necessary to demonstrate, through relevant and up-to-date assessments, that specialist provision is essential to enable the learner to participate in education in that it offers a level of specialist support and/or equipment that is not available elsewhere.

14 In all cases, the LSC will need to be satisfied that the proposed placement will meet the assessed educational needs of the young person and that the placement does not represent a disproportionate use of public funds.

Residential Placements

15 In addition to the above factors, the criteria for considering residential placements will focus on establishing whether residential provision is necessary:

- to enable the learner to access appropriate provision; and/or
- because the learner needs to learn within an extended curriculum that can be only delivered within a residential setting.

16 Where the need for the placement is driven primarily by significant medical or care needs, the LSC would expect to secure joint funding of the placement by social services and/or the relevant health authority.

17 In relation to its duty towards learners up to the age of 19, the LSC's criteria are that:

- no day provision, which is sufficient in quantity and adequate in quality, is available – residential provision is necessary to secure provision for the individual (Criterion 1); and

- residential provision is an essential element of the learner's education and/or training needs, which cannot be provided in a non-residential setting (Criterion 2).

18 For young people aged 19 to 25, the LSC will act in the context of its duty to provide reasonable facilities for this group of learners (that is that other provision is not fit for purpose in that it does not have the facilities to meet the learner's educational needs). However, it will be mindful of the fact that people with learning difficulties and/or disabilities may start a programme of learning at a later age or take longer to complete it.

19 For the purposes of agreeing a placement for young people aged up to 25; evidence would need to demonstrate that they meet either of the criteria in paragraph 17.

20 For people aged 25 and over, as with all other placement requests, the LSC will require evidence to demonstrate that the proposal for a placement has been made as a result of appropriate assessment and guidance involving collaboration between agencies as appropriate.

21 There is also an additional criterion for learners over 25; that the cost of the placement is reflected in the likely benefits to the learner.

22 The additional criterion for learners over 25 will not, however, apply to learners whose programme begins before they reach 25 and those who are in the process of completing their placement.

23 The LSC will need to be satisfied, on the basis of available evidence, that all relevant criteria are met. It is essential, therefore, that the evidence provided in support of any placement request is up to date and appropriate to the request being made. The criteria for considering requests, and guidance on the evidence required to demonstrate that the criteria have been met, are given in Annex D.

Day Placements

24 Where a placement request is for a day placement at a specialist college, the LSC will consider the request in the context of paragraph 13 i.e. that is, specialist provision is essential to enable the learner to participate in education; in that it offers a level of specialist support and/or equipment that is not available elsewhere.

Section 3: Placements Process

Principles

25 The LSC's procedures for considering placements at specialist colleges are designed to ensure that they take account of all relevant information and that decisions can be justified in the context of the LSC's statutory duties. The procedures are designed to reflect the following principles in that there is the need for:

- arrangements that are simple and transparent and that deliver timely decisions
- provision that is adequate in quality and offers appropriate learning and a supportive environment
- national consistency
- provision that represents value for money.

Agencies Involved in the Process

26 The placements process recognises the key role of the LEA and the Connexions Service in its relationship with learners with learning difficulties and/or disabilities, particularly those who have a statement of special educational needs maintained by the LEA under Section 324 of the Education Act 1996. The LEA will have coordinated the support and provision for such learners and, where the learner is making a transition from school provision, will be well placed to identify appropriate future provision. For coherence, and to bring about a smooth transition between school and post-16 provision, the LSC's arrangements build on the information held by the LEA and do not seek to replicate it.

27 The Connexions Service was established to provide support for all young people aged between 13 and 19 years (and up to 25, where needed, for those with learning difficulties and/or disabilities) in the transition to adult and working life. The Connexions Service has a primary role in supporting young people who are seeking a placement at a specialist college. It is responsible for delivering the requirement, under Section 140 of the Act, for the assessment of young people with learning difficulties and/or disabilities where they are likely to undertake post-16 education or training.

28 In delivering this requirement, the Connexions Service will work with the learner and his or her family alongside other statutory agencies, such as schools, LEAs, health professionals and social services. These other agencies may also be involved in the placement process, depending upon the extent of previous involvement with the young person.

Procedure

29 For placements commencing in September 2005, the LSC would generally expect to receive requests for such placements by 31 March 2005. Placement requests will, however, continue to be considered throughout the year. The LSC will not process requests for placement more than one full academic year in advance of the start of the placement.

30 Each local LSC has a designated placement officer whose role is to consider placement requests made on behalf of young people by referring agencies such as LEAs, local Connexions Partnerships, social services and so on. Annex E lists the 47 local LSCs, the names of the placement officers and the LEAs within each area.

31 Once a learner has been assessed by the agencies involved as needing a placement at a specialist college, following consideration of all other options, the referring agency is asked to complete the form in Annex F. This is a summary of the placement request and should be completed in advance of the placement meeting. In addition, the referring agency is asked to seek the permission of the learner, for whom a placement request is being made, and/or parents and carers, that copies of all relevant supporting information can be shared with the LSC and the specialist college as appropriate. The referring agency should also ensure that the learner and his or her parents or carers are fully aware of the evidence that is being submitted to the LSC in support of the request. They should also be given the opportunity to provide supplementary evidence in support of the request should they wish to do so.

32 The placement officer will liaise with the referring agency to convene a meeting for the purpose of considering placement requests. On occasions, it may be helpful if other agencies are also represented at these meetings. The placement officer and referring agency should agree this in advance. Requests for both residential and day placements will be considered at the placement meetings.

33 The list of specialist colleges at which the LSC currently funds learners with learning difficulties and/or disabilities is given in Annex C. If the learner wishes to attend a specialist college that has not previously received funds from the LSC, the referring agency should make early contact with the local LSC to discuss the proposed placement. The LSC will need to undertake checks to ensure that new providers are capable of delivering high-quality provision and are fit to receive public funds. The new provider process can be instigated only on receipt, by the LSC, of a request for a learner to be placed at the new provider. Referring agencies are asked to note that this process could take up to six months to complete and they should inform learners and their parents or carers of this.

Decisions to Fund Placements

34 Many of the criteria evidence checks will be carried out at the placement meeting. It will, therefore, be possible for the placement officer to give an indication of whether or not the relevant criteria are met or whether additional information is required. Any decisions reached at placement meetings are provisional and must remain confidential until such time as a decision has been endorsed by the Executive Director of the local LSC, and the learner, his or her family and the referring agency have been notified of the decision in writing. This will normally be within 15 working days of the placement meeting.

Insufficient Information

35 Where there is insufficient evidence available to demonstrate that the request meets the criteria for funding, the placement officer will advise the referring agency of the additional information required and arrange a further meeting. It is expected that the referring agency will work with the learner and his or her family to gather any additional information in support of the request.

Decisions not to Fund Placements

36 Where, on the basis of the information available, the LSC's decision is that it is not able to fund the placement, the Executive Director will confirm the decision, and the reason for the decision, in writing to the learner and his or her family and the referring agency. This will normally be confirmed within 15 working days of the placement meeting.

37 Anyone whose request is declined can ask for the decision to be formally reviewed. This formal review of the decision will be carried out by the LSC on the basis of any additional information provided. It is expected that the referring agency will continue to work with the learner and his or her family to coordinate the provision of any additional information to the LSC as appropriate.

38 If, following this review, the LSC's decision is that it is still not able to fund the placement, the learner and his or her family may ask that the LSC's independent appeals panel consider the case. Guidance on the appeals process will be provided with the formal notification of the LSC's decision not to fund the placement. It is expected that the referring agency will continue to work with the learner and his or her family throughout the appeals process.

39 Where a learner wishes to attend a specialist college on a residential basis, but does not meet the Council's criteria for a residential placement, the Council will be willing to consider the costs of the day programme and the additional support identified through assessment under the funding matrix. This will allow an increased level of personal choice for learners. In these circumstances, the learner will be required to secure the cost of residential provision from another source.

Section 4: On-programme Issues

Funding Matrix

40 For all placements beginning at specialist colleges in September 2005, the fees matrix arrangements will apply. The support band and fee matrix are set out in Annex G to this document. Fees shown are for the 2004/05 academic year.

41 The LSC's funding reflects the comparable costs of a programme of study for a maximum of 38 weeks a year. This funding represents a package that covers all elements of the programme and the support required by the learner to access the programme, including residential provision where appropriate. The fee also includes the cost of the pre-entry assessment of the learner by the college.

42 The funding levels are gross, and any third party contributions will be deducted from the fee in accordance with the contract made between the LSC and the specialist college. Contributions made by third parties towards the 14 weeks that are over and above the LSC's funding period will not be deducted. Referring agencies should ensure that the request for a placement clearly denotes the period to which any third party contribution refers.

43 The matrix of learning difficulties and/or disabilities and associated support is given in Annex H. Where colleges believe they have learners whose support needs are exceptional and beyond those accommodated in the matrix at Support Band H, prior to offering a place to the learner, they should approach the appropriate local LSC to discuss individual cases. Cases will be reviewed on an individual and exceptional basis. Evidence will be required to demonstrate the learner's exceptional support needs rather than simply a justification based on cost. Further guidance is available within Annex D.

First Term and End of Year Reviews

44 Within the end of the first term review report and in each subsequent review report, specialist colleges are required to reaffirm a learner's learning programme and matrix cell selection. Guidance on the completion and submission of review reports is given in Annex I, and all reports should be received within four weeks of the end of the relevant term. Where a change in the level of support is identified, colleges may request that the matrix cell selection be revised. To support any such request, colleges are required to forward an amended rationale (Annex N) with the review report to the local LSC.

Transition Planning

45 It is expected that transition planning will form an integral part of every learner's individual learning programme. In particular, the review report prepared by the specialist college at the end of the learner's penultimate year of funding must give a clear indication of such planning and how this will be continued throughout the final year of the learner's placement. Further guidance is included in Annex I. The LSC does not expect to receive extension requests solely to enable transition planning to take place.

Destination Data

46 The LSC has a duty under the Act to produce a report each year to the Secretary of State on the arrangements it has made to comply with its general duty to promote equality of opportunity, including equality of opportunity between persons who are disabled and persons who are not. The report must also include an assessment of how effective the arrangements were in promoting equality of opportunity.

47 In order to comply with this requirement, when an LSC-funded learner leaves a college or completes a programme of study or period of LSC funding, specialist colleges are asked to complete a destination form (Annex J) to accompany the learner's final end of year review report. Reports must be received within six weeks of the completion of the learner's programme.

Withdrawals

48 In line with the LSC's contract, the specialist college must inform the LSC as soon as possible if a learner is no longer attending. In order to comply with this requirement, specialist colleges are asked to complete a withdrawal form (Annex K) in the event that a learner, having taken up his or her place at the specialist college:

- is unable to remain at the college through sickness or injury
- is expelled or excluded
- is absent from the college without leave or good cause
- dies.

Length of Funding Period

49 The LSC would usually expect to fund a placement for a learner for a maximum of three years. Funding is normally for between one and three years. The LSC is aware, however, of the need for arrangements to reflect individual patterns of learning and will consider, in exceptional circumstances, requests for further funding on an individual basis.

50 In considering such requests, the LSC would want to be assured that the request had been made as a result of the learner having been appropriately assessed and having received appropriate guidance. It will also be necessary to demonstrate that the cost of the placement is reflected in the likely benefits to the learner.

51 Generally, the LSC does not expect to see transition from one specialist college placement to another. It is expected that a placement at a specialist college will enable the learner to develop the necessary skills and knowledge to enable them to progress beyond specialist college provision.

Extension by Review

52 For learners currently funded by the LSC for a period shorter than that originally sought, the college must prepare a review report detailing the learner's educational progress against their original objectives and requesting an extension to the agreed funding end date. This should be accompanied by a justification for extended funding and details of other opportunities that have been considered as a result of ongoing transition planning. This report should be received by the local LSC, and the learner's referring agency, by the end of the penultimate term funded by the LSC. If information in the review report is not adequate to enable the LSC to make a decision against its criteria, an extension request (Annex L) may be required.

Extension Requests (Annex L)

53 The LSC would expect to receive a request to extend the duration of the originally agreed placement only:

- in very exceptional cases when a learner may require a further period to complete a programme of study (for example, as a result of an ongoing illness, the learner may need to have a longer period to complete his or her programme); or
- where the learner has completed his or her original programme and an assessment of the learner's needs indicates that it is appropriate for them to progress to another linked programme of study at the same specialist college.

54 The LSC would not expect to receive an extension request purely based on the need for transition planning for the learner. Transition planning is expected to be integral throughout the duration of the learner's programme.

55 The referring agency, in conjunction with the specialist college, should forward any extension requests to the LSC as early as possible before the start of the proposed extension period and no later than the end of the penultimate term of the learner's current placement. In particular, all extension requests must demonstrate that the learner has been able to consider a range of options and that other provision has been considered to see whether it is adequate to meet the needs of the learner.

56 Only in exceptional circumstances would the LSC consider an extension request where a final year of funding had previously been specified. Colleges in doubt should contact their local LSC.

Section 5: Other Guidance

Inspections

57 All LSC-funded provision will be subject to regular inspection against the criteria contained in the Common Inspection Framework. The arrangements for this are available from the Office for Standards in Education (Ofsted). The LSC will take account of such inspection outcomes in ensuring it can meet its statutory duty in securing provision that is adequate in quality for learners with learning difficulties and/or disabilities.

58 Inspections of specialist colleges will be undertaken jointly by Ofsted and the Adult Learning Inspectorate (ALI). Inspection reports will be published on the appropriate website. A list of useful Internet addresses is given in Annex M.

Further Education College Links with Specialist Colleges

59 Some further education (FE) colleges offer provision on a part-time or full-time basis to learners who are funded by the LSC to attend specialist colleges. In such cases, the specialist college is expected to pay an agreed fee to the FE college for the learner's educational programme. No funding, including funding for additional learning support, may be claimed by the FE college for such learners, as they are already funded by the LSC at the specialist college.

60 Individual details of such learners should not be recorded on the FE college's statistical returns to the LSC. An aggregate number, however, should be returned on the form for franchised-in provision, which should be returned with Individualised Learner Record (ILR) returns in 2004/05.

61 The LSC would not expect FE colleges to charge a fee to the specialist college that exceeds the level of funding the college would have calculated for the learner had it included the learner within its ILR return to the LSC.

62 Specialist colleges should inform FE colleges about any public funding for education being claimed for any learner for whom the FE college is making provision.

Annex A: Other Initiatives

Success for All

1 Success for All is a major programme of reform for the post-16 education and training sector. It comprises four themes, of which the framework for quality and success is the fourth. All four themes are interrelated. For example theme 3, "Developing the learners, teachers, lecturers, trainers and support staff of the future", supports the achievement of the target relating to the gaining of professional qualifications by teachers, lecturers and trainers in theme 4. New and innovative teaching materials and methods developed through action related to theme 2, "Putting teaching, training and learning at the heart of what we do", should enable colleges and providers to ensure teaching and learning activities meet the needs of individual learners more effectively. In turn, better teaching and more effective learning should lead to increased success rates for learners and the achievement of targets for success described in theme 4. Theme 1, "Meeting needs, improving choice", will require colleges and providers to review their missions, and take account of their strengths and the needs of their local community, employers and the strategic plan of their local Learning and Skills Council (local LSC) in their three-year development plans.

2 The LSC is currently working closely with specialist colleges for learners with learning difficulties and/or disabilities to consider how best Success for All might be tailored to its application to this part of the sector. A working group, including representatives from the National Association of Specialist Colleges (NATSPEC), has been established to oversee this.

Disability Discrimination Act Part IV

3 The Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 (SENDA) amends Part IV of the Disability Discrimination Act 1995 (DDA), which placed requirements on employers and service providers not to discriminate against disabled people. This did not include educational institutions. The DDA Part IV now places anti-discrimination duties on bodies responsible for the provision of education, including further and higher education institutions, adult and community providers and specialist colleges.

4 The duties have been introduced in the following stages:

- from 1 September 2002 it is illegal for providers to discriminate against disabled learners by treating them less favourably than others because of their disability; providers are expected to make reasonable adjustments to prevent disabled learners from being disadvantaged
- from 1 September 2003 providers are expected to provide auxiliary aids and services to prevent disabled learners being disadvantaged, and
- from 1 September 2005 providers will be expected to make physical adjustments to premises to prevent disabled learners being disadvantaged.

5 In particular, DDA Part IV highlights the following areas in which providers should be careful not to discriminate:

- admissions procedures

- offers of admission
- deliberately refusing to accept an admission
- student services (courses, recreation, leisure, catering facilities, work placements and accommodation, for example)
- exclusion.

6 These new duties are anticipatory. This means colleges need to anticipate the likely needs of disabled learners and not merely respond to individual needs as they arise.

7 Further information and resources, including practical guidance, can be found in the documents section of the LSC's website (www.lsc.gov.uk) and from the Disability Rights Commission (www.drc.org.uk).

Special Educational Needs Code of Practice

8 The Special Educational Needs (SEN) Code of Practice became effective from 1 January 2002. It incorporates new duties contained within SENDA and provides advice about how to meet those duties. It:

- strengthens the rights of children with SEN to be educated at mainstream schools
- places duties on LEAs to provide information and advice to parents of children with SEN and to offer a means of resolving disputes
- places duties on schools to inform parents when schools make special educational arrangements for their children
- gives schools the right to request statutory assessments of children.

9 Ofsted will monitor and evaluate the effectiveness of the SEN Code of Practice.

Commission for Social Care Inspection

10 Launched in April 2004, the Commission for Social Care Inspection (CSCI) is the single, independent inspectorate for social care in England. CSCI was created by the Health and Social Care (Community Health and Standards) Act 2003 and incorporates the work formerly carried out by the National Care Standards Commission (NCSC). CSCI's primary function is to promote improvements in social care by putting the people who use social care services firmly at the centre of their work.

11 Further information, including copies of CSCI inspection reports, can be found at the CSCI website (www.csci.org.uk).

White Paper: Valuing People A New Strategy for Learning Disability for the 21st Century

12 The Government published the White Paper Valuing People in March 2001. It sets out how the Government will improve the lives of children, young people and adults with learning disabilities, and their families, so that they can live full, independent and active lives in their local communities.

13 The key principles at the heart of the proposals are:

- rights
- independence
- choice
- inclusion.

14 The Government's main objective is to enable people with learning disabilities to have as much choice and control over their lives, and the services and support they receive, as possible.

15 The White Paper covers all areas of life including:

- health services
- housing
- education and training
- employment
- local services.

16 The Government aims to achieve its objectives by:

- establishing new targets for local agencies
- setting up new funds for advocacy services, development and so on
- setting up a new national disability information centre and helpline
- encouraging a person-centred approach
- establishing Learning Disability Partnership Boards to implement the changes locally
- setting up a Learning Disability Taskforce to advise the Government on implementation.

Every Child Matters

17 The Green Paper, Every Child Matters (September 2003), sets out the Government's proposals for reforming the delivery of services for children, young people and families.

It builds on existing measures to ensure protection for children at risk of harm and neglect from negative outcomes and supports all children in developing their full potential.

18 The Green Paper aims to build on progress already made by focusing action on four main areas:

- supporting parents and carers
- early intervention and effective protection

- accountability and integration – locally, regionally and nationally
- workforce reform.

Removing Barriers to Achievement: The Government's Strategy for Special Educational Needs (February 2004)

19 All children have the right to a good education and the opportunity to fulfil their potential. All teachers should expect to teach children with special educational needs and all schools should play their part in educating children from their local community, whatever their background or ability. This must be reflected in the way that teachers are trained, in the way schools are funded and the way achievements are judged. This strategy sets out the Government's proposals for achieving this.

20 The strategy provides national leadership, supported by an ambitious programme of sustained action and review, nationally and locally, over a number of years, in four key areas:

- early intervention
- removing barriers to learning
- raising expectations and achievement
- delivering improvements in partnership.

Connexions Service

21 The Connexions Service is the Government's support service for all young people aged 13 to 19 in England. The service aims to provide integrated advice, guidance and access to personal development opportunities for this group and to help them make a smooth transition to adulthood and working life.

22 The Connexions Service joins up the work of eight government departments and their agencies and organisations on the ground, together with private and voluntary sector groups and youth and careers services. It brings together all the services and support structures young people need during their teenage years. It offers practical help with choosing the right courses and careers, including access to broader personal development through activities such as sport, performing arts and volunteering activities. It also provides help and advice on issues such as drug abuse, sexual health and homelessness.

23 The Connexions Service is delivered through local partnerships working to national planning guidance. The partnerships cover the same geographical areas as the local LSCs. They have flexibility to meet local needs using the design that works best for their area. Delivery of the service is managed and monitored by local management committees, which usually cover the same areas as local authorities.

24 The Connexions Service offers differentiated and integrated support to young people. All young people will have access to a personal adviser if they need it. For some young people this may just be for careers advice, for others it may involve more in-depth support to help identify barriers to learning and find solutions, which may include brokering access to more specialist support. Personal advisers will work in a range of settings, including schools, colleges, one-stop shops, community centres and on an outreach basis.

25 A key principle of the Connexions Service is to involve young people in every aspect of its design and delivery.

Connexions support for young people with learning difficulties and/or disabilities

26 Connexions Personal Advisers provide specific support for young people with learning difficulties and/or disabilities, which includes:

- attending the Year 9 annual review of a young person with a statement of SEN, coordinating the resulting transition plan and, where appropriate, attending subsequent annual reviews, including the last one before the young person leaves school (this is covered in the SEN Code of Practice)
- ensuring that all young people with learning difficulties and/or disabilities who are undertaking, or are likely to undertake, post-16 education or training or higher education receive assessments of their educational and training needs as and when appropriate. Section 140 of the Learning and Skills Act 2000 sets out the statutory provision for these assessments from Year 11 onwards. Connexions is responsible for delivering this requirement
- supporting young people who are coming to the end of their involvement in the Connexions Service. This support may be provided, where necessary, until a person's 25th birthday
- working with other organisations and agencies to support and meet the needs of young people with learning difficulties and/or disabilities. This includes other agencies working directly with these young people, specialist assessment services and local LSCs.

27 More information about the Connexions Service, including contact details for each partnership, is available on the Connexions website (www.connexions.gov.uk).

Annex D: Evidence Requirements and Criteria for Placements

Criteria for Considering Placements – Day and Residential

1 For all learners, appropriate and up-to-date assessment reports should be available to demonstrate the match between the needs and aspirations of the learner and the placement following the principles of inclusive learning.

2 For all placements, day and residential, evidence must be targeted to demonstrate that specialist provision is essential to enable the learner to participate in education in that it offers a level of specialist support and/or equipment that is not available elsewhere, and that local provision is not sufficient in quantity nor adequate in quality to meet the learner's needs.

3 In all cases, the LSC will need to have evidence to demonstrate that the proposed placement will meet the assessed educational needs of the young person and that the placement does not represent a disproportionate use of public funds.

4 The following documentation, where relevant, would be the source of such evidence (where there are several, the most recent version only is usually required):

- Connexions Service reports, including assessments conducted under Section 140 of the Act (where learner's are eligible to receive a Section 140 assessment, this will be a required piece of evidence). The Connexions Service has issued guidance regarding Section 140 assessments. Assessments that do not fulfil the requirements as set out in the guidance may not be considered sufficient evidence on which the LSC can make a decision regarding funding.

- statement review report
- transition plan
- school report, or report from the learner's previous placement
- social services report
- medical report
- psychological report
- probation report; and
- assessment carried out by the specialist college.

5 A learner need not be turned down for a place at an FE college before a placement at a specialist college, either day or residential, can be considered. However, recent evidence of the consideration given to alternative post-16 provision and opportunities should be available; usually this will be within the Section 140 report, and the basis on which it was considered not to be appropriate should be made clear.

Criteria for Residential Provision

Criterion 1

There should be evidence that no day provision, which is sufficient in quantity and adequate in quality, is available. Residential provision is necessary to secure provision for the individual.

Criterion 2

Evidence should show that residential provision is an essential element of the learner's education and/or training needs, which cannot be provided in a non-residential setting.

6 The LSC would normally expect to see the evidence for the need for a residential placement fall into one of the following categories.

Category 1 – medical

7 Medical evidence would need to be available to demonstrate that such support was essential rather than simply helpful, and that other arrangements were either non-existent or inconsistent with the pursuit of an educational programme for the individual learner who may:

- have need of continuous, ongoing and on-the-spot medical support and/or supervision to enable full access to an educational programme
- require periods of rest or physiotherapy to enable them to meet the demands of the programme; or
- already be in a specialist placement or have a deteriorating condition, which requires a future placement to be residential.

Category 2 – educational

8 The evidence must show that these needs and aspirations can be met only in a specialist setting, and that other provision does not meet those needs.

9 Evidence for this category should demonstrate that:

- the programme of study identified for the learner addresses his or her needs in a way that can be found only in a residential setting; or
- there is a need for the development of essential skills such as communication, daily living, mobility and self-care.

10 The learner may wish to follow a programme in which the main aim is to develop personal and social skills. This would be appropriate where, for example, the learner's behavioural difficulties are such that regular attendance at a non-residential placement might be in doubt.

Additional Criteria for Learners Over the Age of 25

11 The LSC recognises that some learners may have acquired a learning difficulty and/or disability later in life, while others may have experienced difficulties with learning for some time but only recently had a diagnosis of the nature of the difficulty. The Act gives the LSC discretionary powers to consider funding placements for learners who are over the age of 25.

12 As with all placement requests, the LSC expects that in reaching a decision to seek a placement, any learner over the age of 25 has had the opportunity for advice and guidance that has explored other available options.

Criterion 3

There should be evidence that the cost of the placement is reflected in the likely benefits to the learner.

13 Evidence to support the placement request should include reports on any provision that has been accessed to date and the rationale for the decision to seek a placement at a specialist college. It should also demonstrate how the support at the specialist college meets the needs of the learner in an age-appropriate way.

14 There should be evidence of the likely impact of the placement on the learner's long-term prospects, which may include employment.

Assessments by Specialist Colleges

15 The pre-entry assessment report of a learner by a specialist college should include, as a minimum, the following:

- a statement that clearly outlines how the provision best matches the educational needs of the learner
- confirmation of when the assessment took place, its duration and its content
- identification, across the curriculum, of the skills that the learner needs to acquire
- assessments by specialists as appropriate (speech and language therapists, for example)
- initial identification of relevant and realistic educational goals (including a clear definition of the learner's primary learning goal) and how the proposed programme would contribute towards such goals. This should include details of accredited (awarding body and syllabus if relevant) and non-accredited programme aims and whether any elements of the provision will be made by another provider (for example, a general FE college)
- the start and end date of the proposed placement; and
- the completion of the form in Annex N, which identifies the specialist support required by the learner and the related matrix cell selection. Please note, as per paragraph 43 in the main body of this document, if the college considers that the learner's support needs are in excess of those detailed in the matrix descriptors, the college must consult the relevant local LSC prior to offering the learner a place.

16 Information from the pre-entry assessment report will be used to create the Learner Schedule, which forms part of the contract between the LSC and the provider. For this reason, it is essential that these minimum requirements are adhered to.

Annex I: Review Reports – Minimum Requirements

Introduction

1 In general, review reports should be completed at the end of the learner's first term and at the end of each subsequent year, including the learner's final year. However, for extension by reviews, reports must be forwarded to the LSC before the end of the penultimate term of LSC funding. Where a review report forms the basis of an extension by review request, it would be helpful if it could be clearly labelled as such.

2 Please find below a checklist, which is intended to help you compile the information that the LSC would expect to be included in review reports.

3 Where it is the practice of the college to produce extensive review reports, it would be beneficial if an executive summary could also be produced along the following minimum guidelines:

- the learner's personal details (name and date of birth)
  - the programme start date, agreed funding end date and programme end date
  - confirmation of the learner's support needs and if any matrix changes (increase or decrease) have been identified
  - input from specialists (for example speech and language therapists, physiotherapists) as appropriate
  - confirmation of matrix cell selection or a request to change it
- confirmation that the learner is still following the programme as outlined on the Learner Schedule (if not, clearly highlight any alterations and give reasons for the change)
  - an outline of achievements, full or partial, made towards objectives identified on the Learner Schedule. The report should also include an update on all elements of the learner's programme
  - an outline of targets, academic and non-academic for the forthcoming year; and
  - an update on transition planning. In addition, the report completed at the end of the learner's penultimate year must indicate what plans will be put in place during the learner's final year of funding to build on transition planning already undertaken within the learner's programme. This should include opportunities to consider alternative provision (further education, higher education, voluntary work and so on) and should include opportunities for input from other involved agencies (guidance counsellors, social services, medical practitioners, Connexions Service advisers and so on).

4 All review reports should be signed and dated and returned to the relevant local LSC.

Please return this form to the placement officer of the relevant local Learning and Skills Council office. Local addresses are in Annex E.

Note

Where colleges believe they have learners whose support needs are exceptional and beyond those accommodated in the matrix at column H, prior to offering a place to the learner, they should approach the appropriate local Learning and Skills Council to discuss individual cases. Cases will be reviewed on an individual and exceptional basis. Evidence will be required to demonstrate the learner's exceptional support needs rather than simply a justification based on cost.

<sup>1</sup> Please note that the overall cell selection should be a reflection of the overall balance of support needs and not solely the highest component level selected.
