Our aim is to help people from working vulnerable adults.

1. Introduction

The Independent Safeguarding Authority's (ISA) Referral Guidance is for use when considering or making a referral. The ISA will receive referrals when:

- there is harm or risk of harm to children or vulnerable adults, relevant conduct has occurred or
- an individual has received a caution or conviction for a relevant offence.

This Guidance will help employers, personnel suppliers, volunteer coordinators and other bodies in England, Wales and Northern Ireland to:

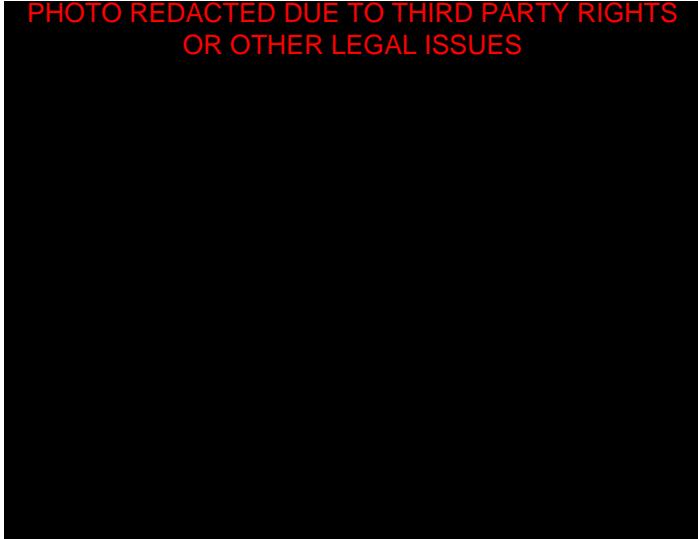

- understand their duties to refer information to the ISA under the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006 (2006 Act) and the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups (Northern Ireland) Order 2007 (2007 Order);
- understand ISA referral policies and processes; and
- complete the ISA Referral Form.

“ This guidance introduces some new terms that you will need to understand such as regulated activity and relevant conduct that have specific meanings under the 2006 Act and 2007 Order. These terms appear in italics throughout the Guidance. Please refer to Section 4: Definition of Key Terms for further information. **”

An electronic copy of this Guidance, the ISA Referral Form as well as information on the ISA and the referral process can be found on the ISA website www.isa-gov.org.uk

This document is intended as a helpful guide to the main requirements of the law and inevitably does not explain every aspect of it. If you are in any doubt you must obtain your own, independent legal advice.

ISA Referral Guidance - Introduction

The Independent Safeguarding Authority (ISA) is established under section 1 of the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006. It was created to help prevent unsuitable people from working or volunteering with children and vulnerable adults in England, Wales and Northern Ireland.

The ISA has four statutory duties:

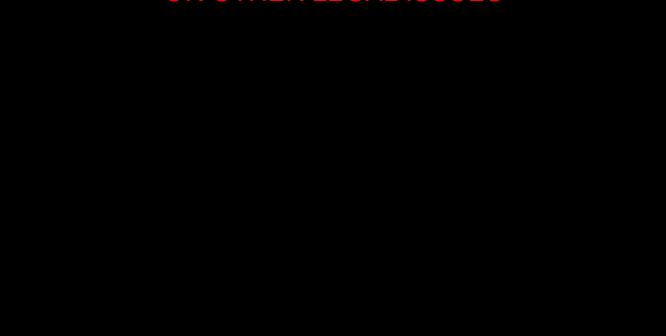

- To maintain a list of individuals barred from engaging in regulated activity with children;
- To maintain a list of individuals barred from engaging in regulated activity with vulnerable adults;
- To make well-informed and considered decisions about whether an individual should be included in one or both barred lists; and
- To reach decisions as to whether to remove an individual from a barred list.

A referral is information which does or could indicate that an individual has engaged in an activity that caused concern for the safeguarding of children or vulnerable adults. Making a referral involves completing and signing an ISA Referral Form and posting to the ISA together with any supporting information and evidence you may hold.

This Guidance provides advice to those making referrals and in particular the statutory duty to share or refer that information. The following bodies have a statutory duty to refer any relevant information to the ISA:

- Regulated activity providers;
- Personnel suppliers;
- Local authorities;
- Education and Library Boards;
- Health and Social Care (HSC) bodies;
- Keepers of Registers named in the legislation; and
- Supervisory authorities named in the legislation.

OR OTHER LEGAL ISSUES

Please Note!

- The ISA can only consider referrals that are related to safeguarding children or vulnerable adults in the workplace (including volunteers). Where there are other forms of misconduct not related to safeguarding children or vulnerable adults in the workplace, you should refer these cases, as appropriate, to the police, local authority or relevant regulatory body e.g. General Medical Council (GMC), General Teaching Council (GTC), Northern Ireland Social Care Council, Department of Education in Northern Ireland etc.
- If members of the public have any safeguarding concerns about an individual they should contact the police and/or the relevant local authority's children and adults safeguarding team or social services within a Health and Social Care Trust in Northern Ireland. The police and/or local authority will conduct an investigation. Following an assessment of the evidence, the information may then be sent as a referral to the ISA for consideration.
- In all cases you should also follow your local safeguarding and HR disciplinary procedures and maintain proper records. If appropriate you may also need to consult with a governing body or related professional organisation for guidance.

ISA Referral Guidance - Introduction

The changes that occurred on 12 October 2009

On 12 October 2009, the key barring provisions in Schedule 3 of the 2006 Act and Schedule 1 of the 2007 Order came into force.

Key changes introduced include:

- The replacement of the previous barred lists (Protection of Vulnerable Adults (POVA) list, Protection of Children Act (POCA) list and List 99 in England and Wales; the Disqualification from Working with Children (DWC) List, the Unsuitable Persons List (UP List) and the Disqualification from Working with Vulnerable Adults (DWVA) List in Northern Ireland) as well as the current system of Disqualification Orders which is operated by the criminal justice system with two new lists – the ISA Children's barred list and the ISA Vulnerable Adults barred list;
- Regulated activity commenced, which widened the scope of sectors covered by the barred lists to include prisons and most general health care settings;
- A new single ISA Referral Form and new ISA Referral Guidance came into operation
- New duties to share information and make referrals to the ISA for regulated activity providers, personnel suppliers, keepers of registers, supervisory bodies, local authorities, Education and Library Boards and HSC bodies. The above bodies also have an existing duty to provide information they hold to the ISA on request.

2. Referral Policy

Who has a duty to refer?

The 2006 Act and the 2007 Order set a legal duty for the following groups to refer information to the ISA in certain circumstances:

- Regulated activity providers;
- Personnel suppliers;
- Local authorities;
- Health and Social Services (HSS) bodies;
- Education and Library Boards;
- Keepers of registers; and
- Supervisory authorities.

A regulated activity provider is an organisation or individual that is responsible for the management or control of regulated activity, paid or unpaid, and makes arrangements for people to work in that activity. This will usually be an employer or a voluntary organisation. Examples of a regulated activity provider would be: an NHS hospital or Health and Social Care Trust that employs people to provide care, supervision and advice to children and vulnerable adults; a Further Education College that provides education to children under 18 years of age; or a specialist educational establishment that provides education to vulnerable adults.

A regulated activity provider can also be a person who manages volunteers in a regulated activity position, such as a scout leader or as part of a charitable organisation.

The duty for a regulated activity provider to refer information to the ISA is set out under section 35 of the 2006 Act and section 37 of the 2007 Order.

A Personnel Supplier is an employment agency that makes arrangements with a person with a view to finding that person employment, or supplying that person to employers. A Personnel Supplier is also an educational institution who arranges for its students to undertake placements as part of their studies.

A Local Authority is defined as in section 1 of the Local Authorities (Goods and Services) Act 1970.

Keepers of Registers and Supervisory Authorities are set out in the 2006 Act and the 2007 Order. They are listed under Sections 41 and 45 of the 2006 Act and 43 and 47 of The 2007 Order.

A regulated activity provider is any person who is responsible for the management or control of regulated activity for an organisation and who engages another to perform that regulated activity.

- An inspector appointed under Article 102 of the Education and Libraries (Northern Ireland) Order 1986 in the exercise of his functions.

From 12 October 2009, the list of supervisory authorities in Northern Ireland, as originally set out at Article 47(7) of the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups (Northern Ireland) Order 2007, includes the Charity Commission for Northern Ireland. This amendment to the 2007 Order was made by the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups (Miscellaneous Provisions) Order (Northern Ireland) 2009.

HSS Bodies in Northern Ireland are:

From 12 October 2009, the term 'HSS body' will be replaced with 'HSC body' and will include newly established health and social care structures established under the 2009 Act, including the new Public Health Agency and Health and Social Care Board.

An Education and Library Board has the same meaning as defined in article 3 of the Education and Libraries (Northern Ireland) Order 1986.

ISA Referral Guidance - Referral Policy

When do I refer?

Regulated Activity Providers

In all cases there are two conditions, both must be met to trigger a referral to the ISA by a regulated activity provider.

A referral must be made to the ISA when a regulated activity provider, such as an employer or volunteer coordinator or a responsible person in relation to controlled activity:

PARTY RIGHTS OR OTHER LEGAL ISSUES

1. withdraws permission for an individual to engage in regulated or controlled activity, or would have done so had that individual not resigned, retired, been made redundant or been transferred to a position which is not regulated or controlled activity;

because

2. they think that the individual has:
 - engaged in relevant conduct;
 - satisfied the Harm Test; or
 - received a caution or conviction for a relevant offence.

If both conditions have been met the information must be referred to the ISA.

The referral should be made to the ISA when the regulated activity provider has gathered sufficient evidence as part of their investigations to support their reasons for withdrawing permission to engage in regulated or controlled activity and in following good practice, consulted with their Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO) or Health and Social Care Trust Designated Officer if appropriate.

Referral at this point will help to ensure that the ISA has sufficient evidence to commence its decision making process while providing adequate safeguarding for vulnerable groups.

Personnel suppliers

A Personnel Supplier may be an employment agency, employment business or an educational institution.

An employment agency makes arrangements to either find a work-seeker employment with a hirer or to supply him to a hirer to employ.

An employment business engages a work-seeker and supplies him to a hirer to work under a hirer's control.

There are two circumstances where an employment agency or business has a duty to make a referral to the ISA:

1. Duty to refer where the hirer thinks that the work-seeker has engaged in activity that causes concern for the safeguarding of children or vulnerable adults.

Employment agencies and businesses have a duty to make a referral to the ISA in respect of a work-seeker who has been supplied to a hirer where BOTH of the following conditions are met:

The employment agency or business knows that the work-seeker is no longer engaged in regulated activity or controlled activity either because the client has removed him or would have removed him if the arrangement had not otherwise ended (e.g. because the work-seeker left of his own accord or the assignment ended).

AND

The reason is that the hirer thinks that the work-seeker:

- engaged in relevant conduct; or

- the harm test is satisfied; or
- the work-seeker received a caution or conviction for a relevant offence.

2. Duty to refer where the employment agency or business thinks that the work-seeker has engaged in activity that causes concern for the safeguarding of children or vulnerable adults.

An employment agency or business also has a duty to make a referral to the ISA if it stops providing its services to a work-seeker or would have stopped providing its services to a the work-seeker if the arrangement had not otherwise come to an end because it thinks that the work-seeker:

- engaged in relevant conduct; or
the harm test is satisfied; or
the work-seeker received a caution or conviction for a relevant offence.

An educational institution is a Personnel Supplier if it makes arrangements to supply a student following a course at the institution to a regulated activity provider such as a school.

An educational institution that is a Personnel Supplier, such as a teacher training college, has a duty to make a referral to the ISA in respect of a student who has been supplied to a regulated activity provider e.g. a school where BOTH of the following conditions are met:

(a) The educational institution:

- ceases to supply a student to a regulated activity provider to engage in regulated or controlled activity; or determines that the student should cease to follow a course at the institution; or
- would have done if the student had not otherwise ceased to engage in regulated or controlled activity or ceased to follow the course.

AND

(b) The reason is that the educational institution thinks that the student has:

- engaged in relevant conduct; or
- the harm test is satisfied; or
- the student received a caution or conviction for a relevant offence.

ISA Referral Guidance - Referral Policy

Local Authorities, Keepers of Registers, Supervisory Authorities, HSC Bodies and Education and Library Boards

In all cases the trigger to make a referral to the ISA for one of the above bodies is when they think that an individual who is engaged or may engage in regulated or controlled activity has:

- engaged in relevant conduct;
- satisfied the Harm Test; or
- received a caution or conviction for a relevant offence.

If the above conditions have been met the prescribed information must be referred to the ISA.

The referral should be made to the ISA when the body has gathered sufficient evidence as part of their investigations to support their thinking a person has engaged in relevant conduct, satisfied the harm test or received a caution or conviction for a relevant offence. At this point the body should think the person has a case to answer. Referral at this point will help to ensure that the ISA has sufficient evidence to commence its decision making process while providing adequate safeguarding for vulnerable groups.

One important difference for supervisory authorities only is they are not under a legal duty to refer information to the ISA if they are satisfied that the ISA already hold the information.

Note for Keepers of Registers

If a keeper of a register in England or Wales (excluding the GTC England, GTC Wales, GSAC and Care Council for Wales) thinks that an individual on their register satisfies the harm test, then the second condition (about engaging in regulated or controlled activity) is met if:

- a relevant registration decision has been taken;
- the individual is under investigation that may lead to a relevant registration decision; or

- the keeper of register holds information that may lead to a relevant registration decision being taken or an investigation in relation to an offence.

A relevant registration decision is a decision by the keeper of register to:

- refuse registration;
- remove a person from the register;
- suspend a person's registration;
- place conditions on a person's registration;
- issue a formal warning or caution to a person who is registered; or
- annotate a person's registration in relation to future conduct.

The information to be referred is outlined in paragraphs 1,2,3,5,6,9 and 10 of the Schedule to the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006 (Prescribed Information) Regulations 2008 and the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups (Prescribed Information) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2009.

In Northern Ireland, the General Teaching Council for Northern Ireland (GTCNI), the Northern Ireland Social Care Council (NISCC) and the registrar of Pharmaceutical Chemists as appointed under Article 9(1) of the

THIRD PARTY RIGHTS OR OTHER LEGAL ISSUES

Pharmacy (Northern Ireland) Order 1976 will be added to this list by way of further amending legislation. As a consequence, relevant registration decisions by GTCNI, NISCC and the registrar of Pharmaceutical Chemists will also trigger the requirement for these bodies to refer to the ISA.

ISA Referral Guidance - Referral Policy

Please Note!

Suspension Without Prejudice

- It is important to note that withdrawing permission to engage in regulated or controlled activity does not include suspension without prejudice as this would be a neutral act and there would be no evidence at this point to support the thought that a person has engaged in relevant conduct, or that the harm test is satisfied.
- For example: Mr. A, whom you employ in regulated activity, is referred to you following an allegation that he hit a vulnerable adult that he was employed to care for. As a responsible employer you take immediate action to safeguard the adults in your care by suspending Mr. A. However, the suspension is on the basis of an allegation and therefore a neutral act without prejudice.
- The wording of the duty is withdraw permission to engage in regulated or controlled activity because you think the person has engaged in relevant conduct or the harm test is satisfied. Therefore withdrawal of permission becomes relevant only after any investigation you undertake provides evidence to make you think the allegation has foundation.

PHOTO REDACTED DUE TO THIRD PARTY RIGHTS OR OTHER LEGAL ISSUES

ISA Referral Guidance - Referral Policy

Withdrawal from regulated or controlled activity

- Withdrawing a person from regulated or controlled activity in the context of making a referral does not necessarily mean permanently removing them. Once your investigations have established harm or risk of harm to children or vulnerable adults a decision needs to be made as to the best way of managing this information. There are a number of options
 1. Return the individual to work with additional training and/or a warning
 2. Dismiss the individual
 3. Return the individual to a non regulated activity
 4. Continue suspension due to risk of harm while seeking advice

If the decision is to remove the person either through any of points 2 to 4 above then permission to engage in regulated activity has been withdrawn.

- Where an individual has left your employ before you made any final disciplinary decision due to harm or risk of harm to a child or vulnerable adult this information must also be referred to the ISA.

All groups: making a referral when there is no duty to refer

The ISA will consider all information referred to it from any source in relation to whether an individual should be included in a barred list. For example:

- Regulated activity providers and other groups may provide information where following an internal investigation there is insufficient evidence to show relevant conduct occurred, but they still have concerns about that individual; or
- Where an employer may have concerns about an individual who has left their employ and they know or think that the individual works in regulated or controlled activity in another setting. Again there is no duty to refer to the ISA but they may.
- It is important to ensure that you are satisfied any referral made where the legal duty has not been met complies with relevant legal requirements e.g. The Data Protection Act and employment laws

Relevant Conduct and Examples of Harm

The following examples of relevant conduct (harm) for children and vulnerable adults are taken from 'Guidance Notes for the Barring Decision Making Process' issued by the ISA and available from the ISA website. The examples are not a definitive or exhaustive list and are intended to provide general information around the type of harm that may be considered in making a referral to the ISA.

ISA Referral Guidance - Referral Policy

Type of harm to children	Meaning	Examples
Emotional/ Psychological	Action or inaction by others that causes mental anguish	Emotional harm is the emotional ill-treatment of a child such as to cause severe and persistent adverse effects on the child's emotional development. It may involve conveying to children that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued only insofar as they meet the needs of another person. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. It may involve causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. It may involve children witnessing aggressive, violent or harmful behaviour such as domestic violence. Some level of emotional harm is involved in all types of ill-treatment of a child, though it may occur alone. Grooming. Harassment. Inappropriate emotional involvement.
Physical	Any intentional physical contact that results in discomfort, pain or injury	Physical harm may involve assaults including hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating, or otherwise causing physical harm to a child. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer feigns the symptoms of, or deliberately causes ill health to a child whom they are looking after. This situation is commonly described using terms such as factitious illness by proxy or Munchausen syndrome by proxy. Supply drugs to children. Inappropriate/unauthorised methods of restraint.
Sexual	Any form of sexual activity with a child under the age of consent	Sexual harm involves forcing or enticing a child or young person to take part in sexual activities, whether or not the child is aware of what is happening. The activities may involve physical contact, including penetrative (e.g. rape or buggery) or non-penetrative acts. They may include non-contact activities, such as involving children in looking at, or in the production of, pornographic material or watching sexual activities, or encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways. Downloading child pornography. Taking indecent photographs of children. Sexualised texting.
Neglect	Failure to identify and/or meet care needs	Neglect is the failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health or development. It may involve a parent or carer failing to provide adequate food, shelter and clothing, failing to protect a child from physical harm or danger, or the failure to ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment. It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs.

3. The Referral Process

The following series of events and Figure 1 (below) outline a typical referral and barring process:

- A regulated activity provider removes an individual from regulated activity due to relevant conduct, risk of harm or receiving a caution or conviction for a relevant offence (or the person has resigned or left that post in circumstances where they may have been removed).
- The regulated activity provider follows their agreed local safeguarding and disciplinary procedures (this is separate from the duty to refer to the ISA). This may also involve consulting with a relevant governing body or professional association.
- The regulated activity provider consults their Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO) or Health and Social Care Trust Designated Officer if appropriate.
- The regulated activity provider undertakes an initial investigation to establish facts and gather evidence such as witness statements.
- Following initial investigation or evidence gathering the regulated activity provider thinks that there may have been relevant conduct or there is a risk of harm, and they take a decision to withdraw permission for the individual to engage in regulated activity,
- The regulated activity provider makes a referral to the ISA using the ISA Referral Form after consulting the ISA Referral Guidance. The completed and signed ISA Referral Form and supporting evidence and documents are posted to the ISA (see section 5: Contacting the ISA).
- The regulated activity provider will, also refer this information by post to the relevant regulatory body e.g. General Social Care Council, General Teaching Council, Nursing and Midwifery Council, Northern Ireland Social Care Council etc.
- The ISA will acknowledge the referral by return post within three working days of receipt.
- The ISA will commence the decision making process. Details of this process can be found on the ISA website www.isa-gov.org.uk. The ISA will review the referral information and evidence provided and where necessary request information from other sources such as the Police, the relevant local authority or the relevant Health and Social Care Trust. The ISA may also request additional information or documents from the regulated activity provider if not provided with the original referral.
- Following ISA consideration, if the ISA is ‘minded to bar’ an individual it will write to that individual seeking representations as to why they should not be barred from working or volunteering with children and/or vulnerable adults. The ISA will provide to that individual all the evidence that the ISA has relied on in making its ‘minded to bar’ decision. The individual will have eight weeks to make representations in writing to the ISA. Current employers and other bodies or individuals with a registered legitimate interest in the individual will be notified in writing that the ISA is ‘minded to bar’ that individual.

ISA Referral Guidance - The Referral Process

- Following representations, if an individual is subsequently barred they will be notified in writing. If the individual is not barred, they and legitimately interested parties will be advised in writing. The ISA does not have the power to inform any other individuals or organisations of the decision including an employer who may have dismissed the individual (as they no longer have a legitimate interest in the individual).
- If a referred individual is barred on the ISA children's list, ISA vulnerable adults list or both lists they will not be permitted to work in regulated activity with these groups. The 2006 Act and 2007 Order sets out legal sanctions in relation to barred persons engaging in regulated activity.

These sanctions relate both to the barred person and to the individual knowingly allowing a barred person to engage in regulated activity.

- An individual included on either, or both, of the barred lists (other than those listed as a result of an automatic inclusion without the right to make representations) will have the right of appeal to the Administrative Appeals Chamber of the Upper Tribunal or, where appropriate, the Care Tribunal in Northern Ireland against a decision made by the ISA to include them on a list or not to remove them from a list. An appeal can only be made with the permission of the Tribunal on the grounds that the ISA has made an error on a point of law or finding of fact in relation to information used to form a decision.

Please Note!

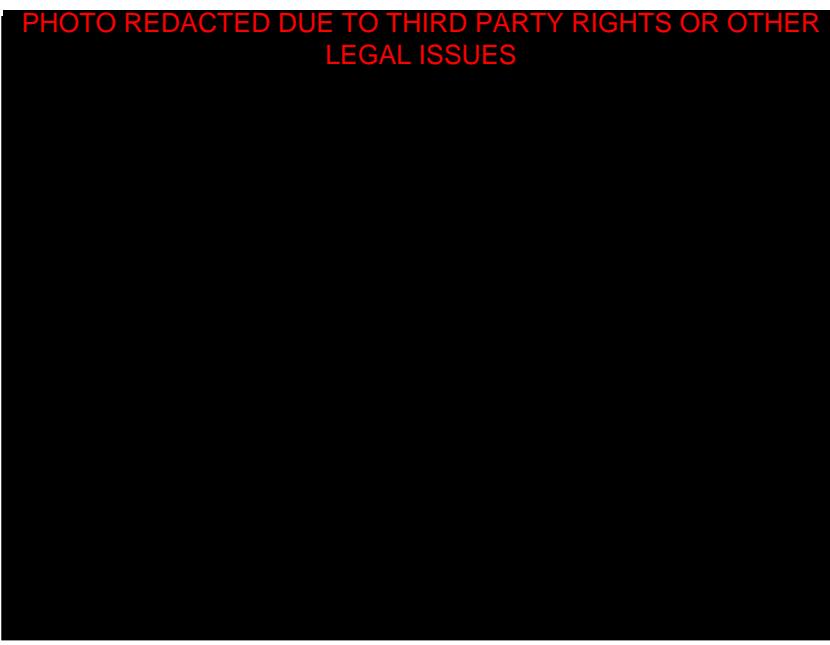

- All referrals to the ISA should use the ISA Referral Form.
- The completed and signed ISA Referral Form and supporting evidence and documents should be posted to the ISA (see section 5: Contacting the ISA).

If you have referred a person it is important that you are aware that any information used by the ISA may be disclosed for the purposes of representation or an appeal.

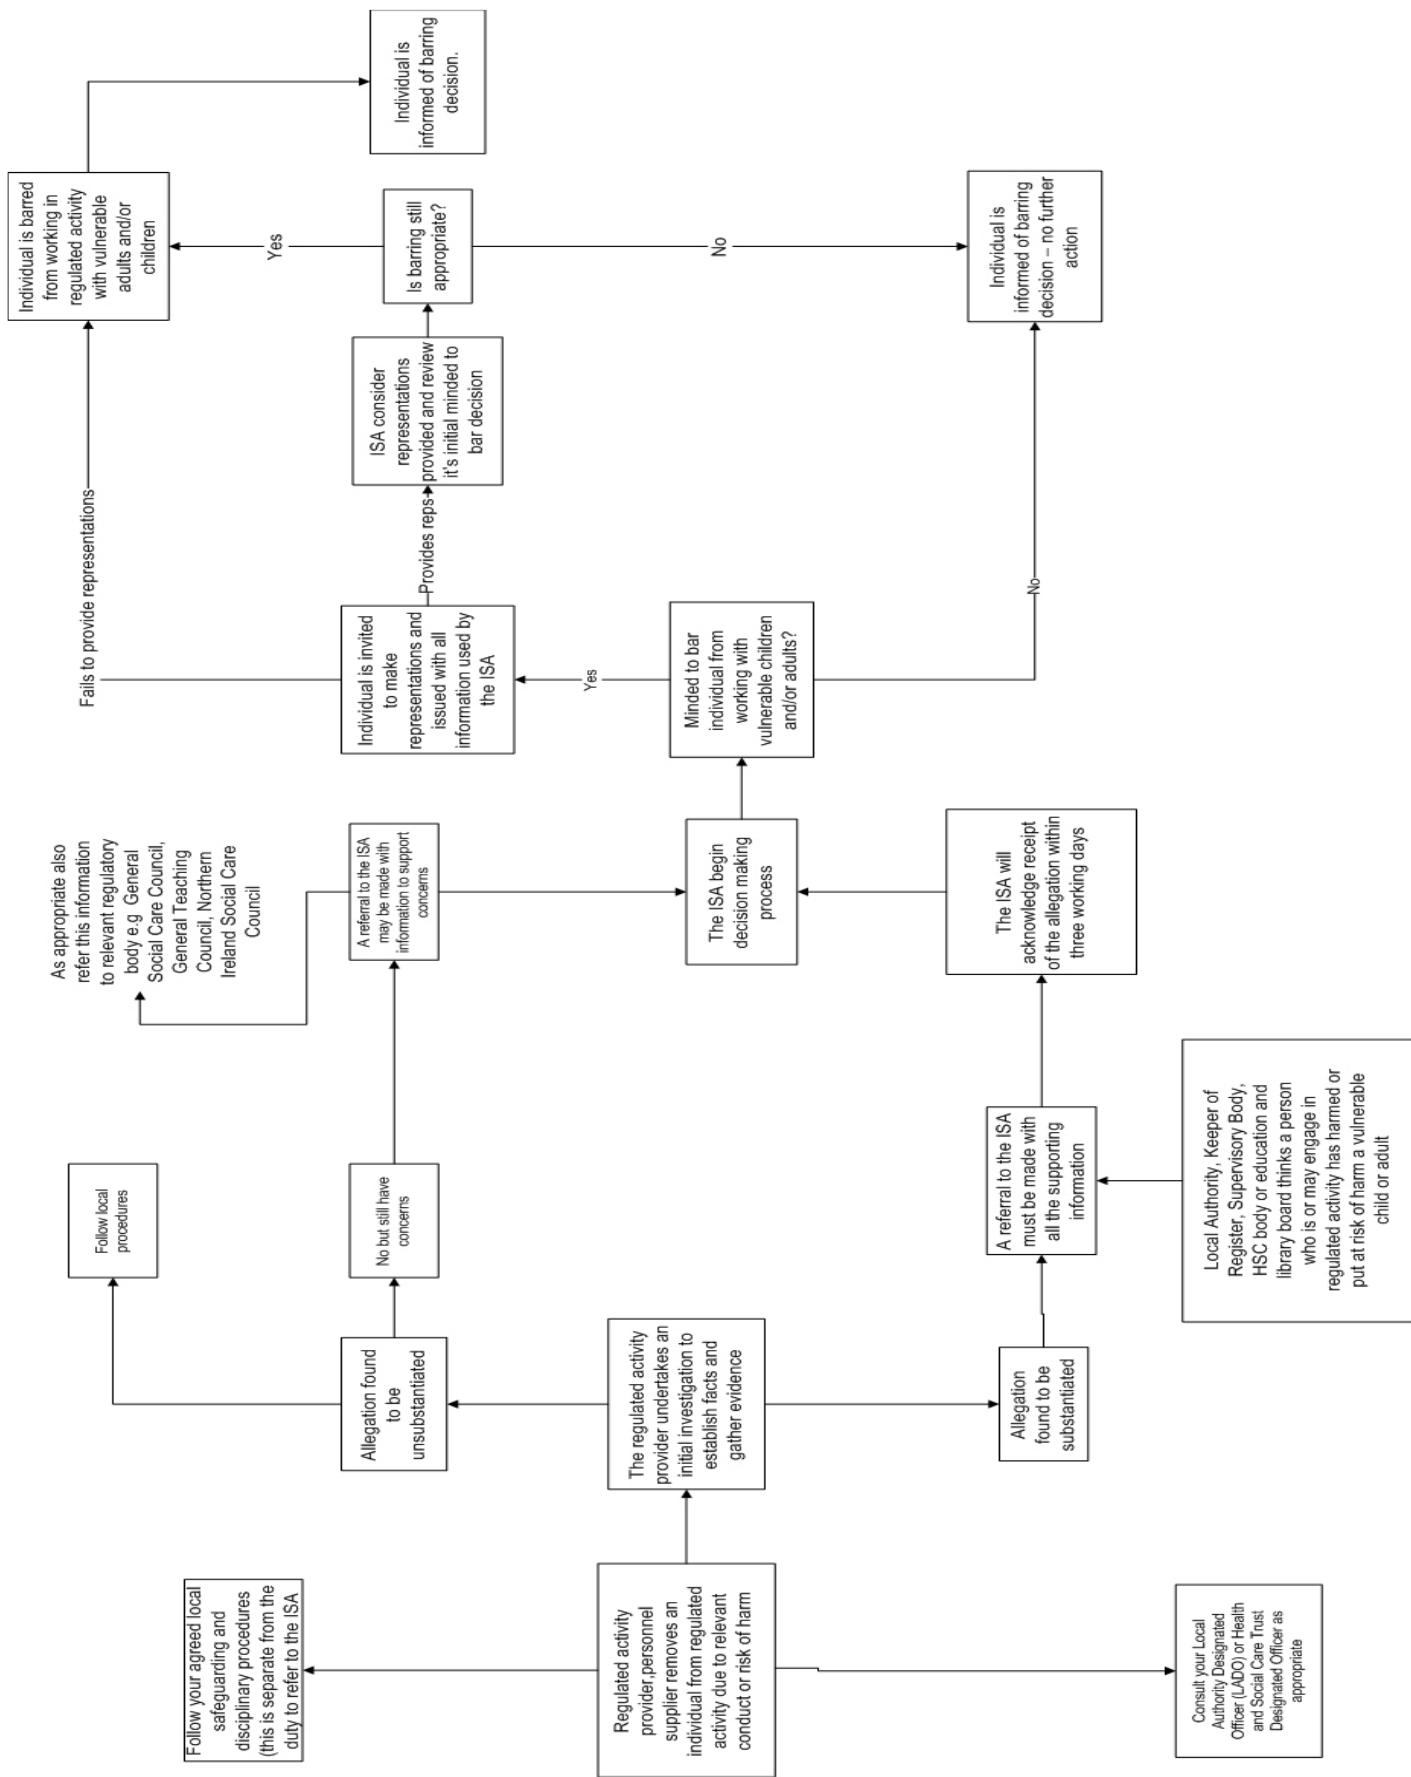

All referrals to the ISA should use the Referral Form, please see page 20 for more details on contacting the ISA.

Relevant offence

A relevant offence for the purposes of referrals to ISA is an automatic inclusion offence as set out in the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006 (Prescribed Criteria and Miscellaneous Provisions) Regulations 2009 and the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups (Prescribed Criteria and Miscellaneous Provisions) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2009.

Regulated Activity

In general terms, an individual is involved in regulated activity if they:

Undertake an activity of a specified nature (ie, teaching, training, instruction, care, supervision, advice, guidance, treatment, therapy or transport) that involves contact with children or vulnerable adults on a frequent, intensive or overnight basis.

Frequent = once a week or more

Intensive = Four or more days in any period of 30 days or

Overnight = between 2am and 6am

Example: A sports coach who provides swimming lessons to children under sixteen once a week, will be teaching and training on a frequent or intensive basis and therefore is undertaking regulated activity.

or

ISA Referral Guidance - Definition of Key Terms

This is providing that activity is a form of work (paid or voluntary) and is carried out for or in connection with the purposes of the establishment.

Frequent = once a week or more
Intensive = four or more days in any period of 30 days or
Overnight = between 2am and 6am

Example: A school receptionist is not employed to teach, train, supervise or care for the children in the school but because they work in a specified place and have the opportunity for contact with children they are undertaking regulated activity.

or

- Undertake fostering and/or childcare

In Northern Ireland, some of the definitions contained in the primary legislation (The 2007 Order), predate health and social care reform under the Health and Social Care (Reform) Act (Northern Ireland) 2009. From this date the functions of the four Health and Social Services Boards, for example, transferred to either the Health and Social Care Board or the Public Health Agency. Where there was a need to keep strictly to legislative definitions in this guidance, this has been done. However, in other cases we make reference to new organisational titles.

ISA Referral Guidance - Definition of Key Terms

Controlled Activity

Controlled Activity is set out in sections 21–23 of the 2006 Act and articles 25-27 of the 2007 Order.

In general terms, an individual is involved in controlled activity if they are ancillary support workers in Further Education, or healthcare settings (eg, cleaner, caretaker, catering staff, receptionist) which is done frequently or intensively and gives the opportunity for contact with children or vulnerable adults.

Example: A member of catering staff at a hospital who on a frequent or intensive basis provides a food service to patients on the wards.

Working for or on behalf of specified organisations (eg, Local Authorities in the exercise of its education or social services functions or a Health and Social Care Body in Northern Ireland) frequently or intensively in roles which give them the opportunity for access to sensitive records about children or vulnerable adults.

Example: An administrative officer in a local authority or Health and Social Care Body who has responsibility for managing files on children in care, where those files contain personal information.

Barred people can sometimes be employed in controlled activity, depending on the nature of the role and providing tough safeguards are in place such as stringent supervision. However, in Wales, a person barred as a result of a caution or conviction for a relevant offence will not be able to work or volunteer in controlled activity.

NOTE! The government has accepted a recommendation to undertake a review of the continuing role of regulated activity in the Vetting and Barring Scheme. The consultation will begin early in 2010. More details will be available on www.dcsf.gov.uk

No disciplinary action was taken. On 12/08/2008 a complaint was made by a resident's family that Mrs Other had taken money from the resident's room. The care manager investigated the allegation and although it was evident some money had went missing there was no evidence to suggest Mrs Other was responsible. No disciplinary action was taken.
