The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory and Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.

General guidance on recording inspection evidence

1. The evidence form (EF) remains the document for recording all first-hand evidence. The guidance in this document applies to all inspection remits but the term 'EF' is used throughout this form to refer to any generic means of recording inspection evidence.
2. Lesson evidence forms will generally contain personal data (and, by implication, other information concerning the performance of an individual being observed). As such, they may be accessible under the Data Protection Act to the individual teacher who has been observed (via a 'subject access request') and should be completed with this in mind. They should be clearly written in a way that another person will be able to understand. However, teachers should have no need to ask for session EFs to be disclosed if feedback is informative and helpful.
3. Since lesson EFs contain personal data, inspectors should take care how they report back on lesson observations, including dual observations, to headteachers and others. Although it would be appropriate to discuss strengths and weaknesses in teaching generally, inspectors should be cautious about sharing grade data from individual lessons because the judgement on the quality of teaching does not rely solely on aggregating grades awarded during lesson observations. In particular, inspectors should not share information for the purposes of performance management and should make clear that inspection evidence must not be used in this way.
4. EFs relating to 'learning walks' or other forms of inspection trail should not contain any graded evaluations of the performance of individuals. However, they may still contain the personal data of those individuals and therefore should be treated as such.
5. When completing lesson EFs, including those that cover a number of short sessions, inspectors are asked to:
 - record the session time/s and date; this will assist in positive identification if a subject access request is made
 - make clear in the context box if the session is not being led by the teacher/trainer
 - make clear in the context box if the lesson is being taught by a newly qualified teacher
 - ensure that the writing is legible and that any underlining is marked in pen (felt highlighters will not show up if the EF is photocopied)
 - avoid the use of colloquial language; write in a professional manner with the assumption that the EF might be seen by the teacher concerned
 - as far as possible, do not write anything that could identify individual learners
 - provide a clear, evidenced analysis for the grades awarded; this will form a useful basis for feedback to the teacher.

6. The information contained within EFs may be open to disclosure under the Freedom of Information Act, especially where they do not comprise personal data.
7. Discussions with staff, governors, learners or other persons connected with the school may include information that is considered to be provided in confidence to the inspection team for the purposes of inspection. Inspectors are asked at the start of a discussion to make clear that the interviewee must clearly signal when any of the information they impart during the discussion is being given in confidence. There should then be agreement between the inspector and the interviewee(s) about what is to be deemed confidential – Ofsted would expect such information not to be trivial or widely-known and that it also covers matters that may harm the confider if disclosed.
8. Where information is given in confidence, inspectors should underline the relevant parts of the EF and put a note in the margin to that effect. This will make it very clear, if release is requested, which elements will be considered for non-disclosure.
9. However, it should be pointed out that it will not always be possible for the inspector to prevent others guessing where the information originated. There are also further circumstances where Ofsted is unable to maintain confidentiality. The most likely scenario would be where inspectors have a duty to pass on disclosures which raise child protection or safeguarding issues, or circumstances where serious misconduct or potential criminal activity are involved. In such circumstances, inspectors should make clear that it may not be possible to guarantee anonymity.

Completing an evidence form

10. The 'header information' on the evidence form (EF) should be completed fully, using the attached coding, where relevant. This is important information for the analysis of lesson observations, for instance. Please note the following sets of codes should only be used for lesson EFs:
 - grouping
 - present/number on roll
 - observation times.
11. All EFs should contain a statement of the main focus of the evidence-gathering activity which relates to one or more of the inspection issues.
12. When recording a session observation, the context should indicate what the session is about, for example its objectives.
13. The evidence section is for brief evaluative comment which makes clear the evidence on which judgements are based. Where teaching is evaluated, a connection should be made to the impact it has on learners' behaviour, progress, and the quality of learning, making specific reference to different groups of learners wherever possible. Inspectors should use the outline guidance and grade descriptors to guide their observations and to support their judgements on the quality of what they see in lessons. There will always be a particular focus on learning and progress, behaviour, and the quality of teaching and the use of assessment to support learning. Where possible, inspectors should seek to confirm judgements about attainment.

14. Inspectors are asked to record any further evidence of particular significance relating to spiritual, moral, social and cultural (SMSC) development under the heading evidence of SMSC.
15. The section headed evaluation for session observations should identify clearly (perhaps by using bullet points) the main strengths and weaknesses that can be fed back to teachers and used for an analysis of whole school issues. All EFs, including those used for non-session evidence, should contain an evaluation. After a discussion with a senior manager, for example, there might be an evaluation of how well the provision is led and managed on the basis of that conversation. The accurate completion of this section is a most important contribution to the overall view of the provider and what it needs to do to improve.
16. For school inspections, there are boxes which correspond to the main headings of the inspection framework in which grades can be put where possible. The lead inspector will steer the team to complete those grades that are the most pertinent for the inspection.
17. All grades awarded should be consistent with the text, and justified by it. Where there is insufficient information to grade, a box should be left blank.
18. When EFs are used to record non-session evidence, such as discussions with staff and learners or analysis of work, complete only the relevant grade boxes. For example, a discussion with a manager should result in an evaluative summary that supports a grade relating to leadership and management, and possibly other grades that relate to the main framework headings that were covered in the discussion. If a quality assurance mentor (QAM) completes a non-session EF (for example, a summary of a discussion), the top of the EF should be marked QAM.
19. The EF can be used flexibly as a 'running EF'. This might consist of repeated visits to a given activity to see, for example, the progress of work in a long session without remaining present the whole time. Alternatively, the pursuit of an inspection issue might give rise to a series of recorded notes that lead to a conclusion on the issue concerned. This might involve a succession of interviews, short visits to a number of lessons, and the scrutiny of documentation and records, and be recorded on a 'single' EF. In practice this would mean fixing together several EF sheets to form a single evidence trail. The lead inspector will guide the team on the way s/he would like EFs to be used. Where an EF is used to record two or more observations of the same class or activity, the total observation time should be entered in the cumulative time box.

20. The EF should also be used for logging the main points raised at meetings with the school's senior management team and for synthesising evidence that underpins important judgements, especially those that might be disputed by the provider or when teams arrive at a judgement.
21. Information relating to routes into teaching taken by newly qualified teachers must also be recorded on an EF. If a newly qualified teacher has been observed during a lesson, enter a 'Y' in the NQT box on the EF. The route and provider boxes also need to be completed; the information to use for these boxes is provided at the end of this guidance document.
22. The EF can also be used to record 'special focus' information. This may be in relation to a specific subject retrieval requested by HMCI or as part of an analysis. In these cases the whole EF would be used to record the detail of the special focus and the shaded box on the EF would be ticked. These EFs would not form part of the main inspection evidence base.

New requirements from January 2014 to record data outcomes for sixth form and primary school sport funding; and external review of governance and/or pupil premium recommendations

23. From January 2014, inspectors are required to record the outcomes on an EF (for data purposes) of the following additional thematic areas:
 - Sixth form
 - Primary school sport funding
 - External review of governance and/or pupil premium.
24. A table outlining the codes to use is below:

Area	Subject code for EF	Statement/Question	Outcome	Code for EF ('Special focus' box)
Sixth form	SI	The sixth form is:	Outstanding	1
			Good	2
			Requires improvement	3
			Inadequate	4
School sport funding (primary)	SG	Is the primary school sport funding used effectively?	Yes	1
			No	2
External Review (Governance and/or Pupil Premium)	ER	Recommend external review of:	Governance only	1
			Governance and Pupil Premium	2
			Pupil Premium only	3

25. A separate EF must be used to record the outcome for each of the three above areas¹. No further information, other than that indicated below, is to be included on these EFs. Inspectors should complete each EF as follows:
- complete the top row of boxes in the normal way
 - tick the 'other' box under 'observation type'
 - Input the relevant subject code (e.g. ER) in the subject codes box (i.e. in the first of the two subject code boxes)
 - Insert references (in the evidence/evaluation part of the EF) to other EFs that contain the relevant record of evidence or evaluation for each area, as appropriate)
 - Input the relevant outcome code into the special focus box (e.g. '2' for 'Governance and Pupil Premium') at the bottom right hand corner of the EF.
26. Inspectors should note that this is separate to, and not part of, a special focus event as described in paragraph 22 above. The EFs do form part of the evidence base.

¹ NB. Inspectors should not complete a separate EF in cases where: a primary school is not in receipt of the primary sport funding; or a recommendation of an external review of governance and/or pupil premium has not been made, or a school has no sixth form.

Evidence form (EF) codes

Inspection number Required in all EFs This is the reference number allocated to a particular school inspection.	Inspector's OIN Required in all EFs Enter own Ofsted inspector number.	Inspector's EF number Required in all EFs Enter in this box a code which uniquely identifies the EF to an inspector and the observation, analysis, discussion or other event recorded. Initial teacher education (ITE) provider information

If a newly qualified teacher has been observed during the inspection, you should tick the NQT box at the bottom of the EF. The initial teacher education (ITE) route and ITE provider boxes must also be completed, using the coding shown below. Please note that only one provider can be added per NQT. If an NQT mentions two providers, include the name of the accredited provider that made the award of qualified teacher status (QTS).

If the provider is not shown in the list below, or does not have a URN, please enter a '0' on the EF under 'ITE provider'.

If the ITE provider is from outside England, please enter a '0' on the EF under 'ITE route' and another '0' under 'ITE provider'.
