Analysis of young people in full-time education and employment

BIS regularly conducts internal analysis of the Labour Force Survey (LFS). Using the Q2 2014 release, along with the Office for National Statistics (ONS) LFS micro-data, levels are investigated of young people who are full-time students and in employment. Results follow:

- In 2014 Q2 there were 233,000 16-17 year olds and 601,000 18-24 year olds in fulltime education and employment.
- The number of young people in full-time education who are also employed aged 16-17 has been declining since 2002.
- From 2006 the number of 18-24 year olds in full-time education and employment has been steady at around 600,000.
- The proportion of 16-17 year old individuals in full-time education and employment has fallen from 30.4% in 1998 Q3 to 15.5% in 2014 Q2. Over this same period the proportion of full-time students aged 18-24 in employment has been consistently around 10% to 11%.
- Around two fifths (41%) of young people in full-time education and employment are men.
